What is a Legal Observer?

As a Responder or Legal Observer, you play a critical role in providing direct, in-person support to individuals facing immigration proceedings or other legal challenges. This includes attending ICE check-ins, court hearings, and other legal appointments to offer solidarity, ensure due process, and serve as a witness to any injustices that may occur.

In the event of an ICE raid or emergency, responders are trained to arrive quickly on-site to observe, document, and report any violations of human rights. Their presence helps to deter misconduct, provide moral and spiritual support through prayer, and publicly denounce any acts of injustice.

Additionally, responders stand in solidarity with communities impacted by racial violence, hate crimes, and other forms of discrimination, ensuring that those in crisis are not left to face these challenges alone. By showing up with compassion, vigilance, and a commitment to justice, we help protect the dignity and rights of vulnerable individuals in our communities.

De La Guerra Plaza 5PM

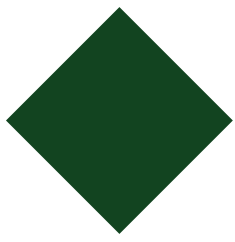

On March 31, we invite you to stand in solidarity with our migrant communities at a vigil, rally, and march in honor of César Chávez Day. This gathering will serve as a powerful call to action, urging leaders to issue emergency proclamations that protect the rights, dignity, and well-being of immigrants and farmworkers who are the backbone of our society.

The evening will begin with a vigil to honor the struggles and resilience of migrant families, creating space for reflection, remembrance, and unity. As we hold candles in tribute, we will uplift the voices of those most impacted by injustice and reaffirm our commitment to the fight for human rights.

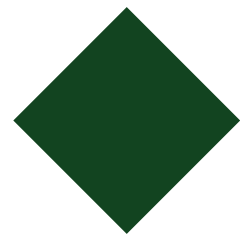

Following the vigil, we will march together to demand change, drawing inspiration from César Chávez's lifelong dedication to justice, fair wages, and humane working conditions for farmworkers. Through our collective presence, we will send a strong message that our communities will not be ignored, and our rights must be protected.

Join us as we raise awareness, mobilize for action, and stand together in the spirit of justice, dignity, and equality. Your presence matters.

AMAZON BOYCOTT

We encourage our community to use this list and shop locally owned small businesses. As a grassroots organization, our primary focus is ensuring we can provide immediate support to families in need. Amazon's platform allows us to quickly and efficiently gather the specific items we need via a wishlist and allows our donors to support if they are unable to physically come to the center. While we fully support family-owned businesses and honor them frequently, the convenience and speed of Amazon in this instance help us meet urgent needs without delay.
